One Page Report on "Green College Clean College Competition"

National Science Day is celebrated in India on February 28th every year to honor the discovery of the Raman Effect by the renowned Indian physicist, Sir C.V. Raman, in 1928. This day is of great significance for students as it highlights the importance of science in our lives and inspires young minds to explore the wonders of scientific inquiry. It serves as a platform for students to engage in scientific activities, experiments and discussions.

Various activities and events are organized in Botany department by B. Sc III, B. Sc II and B. Sc I students like Power point presentation which highlights the importance of science in society and its role in sustainable development. The Programme (Programme was started with an introductory talk by Miss. Prachi Maskar (B.Sc. III, Botany Student) and vote of thanks given by Miss Sakshi Patil (B.Sc. III, Botany Student). The goal is to create awareness about the significance of science and its potential to address global challenges, such as climate change, poverty and public health.
