Environmental Problem

Everybody loves celebrate Ganesh festival with great zeal. But the most serious impact of the Ganesh festival on environment is due to the immersion of idols. The immersion of idols made out of chemical materials causes significant water pollution. The use of thermocol and plastic in pandals as well as for garlands and other decorations increases non biodegradable waste. The toxic waste from these materials kills plant and animal life in the water bodies. Celebrating eco-friendly Ganesh festival enables you to celebrate festival grandly without harming environment and other living beings.

Environment Friendly Ganasha making Workshop

Towards sustainable development...

As going green is the new mantra, say no to idols made of chemical, Plaster of paris, clay, plastic, thermocol (polystyrene). Opt for natural, biodegradable material so that after Immersions (visarjan) it does not pollute water and surroundings.

The workshop is for all individuals who loves Ganesh Festival and love to sustain environment and ready to start spreading the environment harming awareness among society and people. We will bring the
