REPORT

Objectives:

- To inculcate gender equity among students and faculty
- To present and feel proud of our alumni as Icons to students
- To put before the students the journey of these iconic images for inspiration.

Sansthamata Sushiladevi Salunkhe Centre of Women's Studies, Internal Complaint Committee and Alumni Association of Vivekanand College, Kolhapur (Autonomous) celebrate World Women's Day by organizing Interactive Sessions with our iconic alumni on Tuesday, 8th march, 2022. Hon'ble Deepa Patil, Lieutenant Colonel, Indian Army, and Dr. Shweta Patki, a renowned gynecologist, Kolhapur were the resource persons. I would like to inform you that both are our aluminae.

The inaugural function took place at 10.30a.m. with the auspicious hands of the Chief Guests, Deepa Patil and Dr Shweta Patki. The welcome address was given by Dr Sunita Shirke, Presiding Officer of ICC. Dr. Kavita Tiwade introduces the Chief Guests. There were 202 girls and 87 boys and 20 faculty members present.

Deepa Patil addressed the students by saying that making our own image is necessary to sustain in future. Every woman should be independent.

Dr Shweta Patki said that honesty and hard work is necessary for the success in life. We should respect our teachers, parents and be indebted to our educational institutions.

The chairperson of this programme Prin. Dr. R.R.Kumbhar referred the achievements of iconic images of our alumnae.

The programme ends with vote of thanks by Dr Prabha Patil, Coordinator, SSS Center of Women's Studies, Vivekanand College, Kolhapur.

The satellites.... Eyes up in the sky will definitely Nurture the mother Nature to Restore Ecosystems for future Generation.

Chairperson Dr. Lalita Dhareshwar was very much happy with the great Interdisciplinary approach of modern techniques with nature and Environment conservation. She summarised and appreciated Deepti mam excellent presentation of very short time with eye opening approach of ISRO for the Indian Ecology and Economy. Expressed simply " Naman "

Report of the Session II

Topic: SOCIO- ECONOMIC ASPECTS RELATED TO WOMEN AND ENVIRONMENT FOR SUSTAINABLE NATURE.

Resource Person: Dr Mrunalini Fadnavis, Vice chancellor, Punyshlok Ahilyadevi Holkar Solapur University.

Chairperson: Dr Shyamala Bharadwaj.

Rapporteur: Dr. Anjali Salvi

Objectives:

- To create awareness of the Nature's treasure to enhance socio-Economic development.
- To rethink the role of women from ancient times in the use of nature's treasure
- To develop skill courses to understand Nature to preserve, conserve indigenous species, to increase socio-Economic development.
- To discuss the role of women to increase their strength, to maintain Mental and Physical health. To develop socio-Economic culture.

Village medicines can be the best means for socio-Economic development, traditionally called as Grandmother's pouch, is a precious knowledge in Ayurveda and Unani system. 'Biomimicry' can play wonders in socio-Economic development. Examples of various indigenous plants like Tulsi for its antibacterial, antioxidant, antibiotic, economic importance that the powder of tulsi seeds add in our tea. Jambul has great medicinal value rich in iron, calcium, phosphorus and vit E, used for diabetic patients. Bhokar 'Cordia dichotoma' people are unaware of such plants useful in Ayurveda and Unani. Economic value, can be preserved in the form of pickles which can develop into a Gruh Udyog, that can lead women's role to develop our Economy. She has focused on concept of sampurna vanaspathi peepal the Bodhi tree extract used for applying leprosy. 'Neem', various products, having insecticidal properties can be used as fertilizer. 'Mango' the sticky part चिक used in blood pressure sugar. 'Banyan' for joint pains, thyroid. Ashok bark leaves for urinary problems, itching. Guava leaves form a very good paste for the teeth.

Cosmetic technology by using herbal plants, awareness in this respect is also needed. Such plants can be preserved and conserved in rural as well as urban areas to do much better work with the women's role to sustain our nature. Hence Ayurveda and Siddha practice are to be revised and conserved for sustainable development. Women are having scope to work through industrial sectors.

Report of the Session- III

Topic: Natural Resource Management and Implications for Rural Women

Resource Person: Hon'ble Usha Thorat, Former Deputy Governor Reserve Bank of India.

Chairperson : Hon'ble Madhu Pahsava

Rapporteur: Prabha Patil

Objectives:

- To create awareness about the conditions of rural women in India
- To think on Natural Resource Management
- To regenerate the Economic Model of Development

Key points from presentations:

Things to Impact on Rural Women--

1. Overuse of Natural Resources defeating and degrading them
 2. The Degraded, defeated and polluted environment affect all the free services, biodiversity and ecosystem.
 3. Excessive use of fuel for energy leads to climatic change affecting rural women
 4. The way of generating wastes is non recyclable.
- All these practices made the future insecure.

Status of Rural Women in India

1. The customs and social norms place her subordinate.
2. Women have no equal rights.
3. Face health and hygienic problems.
4. The scarcity of energy to consume has social and gender aspects
5. Voices of women remain unheard
6. Gender biases are reproduced.
7. Women are treated not as agents but as beneficiaries.

Economic Model of Development

This model put forth the approaches for rural women to go forward.

1. Khadi as a Concept: The reforms should be based on local ownership of means of products.
2. Commons: to secure the community land rights -- control of commons by rural women
3. It leads to strengthen the women's leadership.

Thus Hon'ble Usha Thorat ma'am explained the Economic Model of Development to secure rural community, Land rights, collective action for inclusive management and governance, access to resources and finance for restoration, ecological health and resilient livelihood.

*Hon'ble Usha Thorat is actively working for livelihood based NGOs.

Chairperson Madhu Pahsya summarized the session and appreciated Usha ma'am for her lucid way of explanation. The role of female in protecting the nature is notable. She further adds that every part of country should be economically and ecologically important.

Almost 25 papers were presented and 40+ were sent for publication.

The conference proved very fruitful in creating awareness about nurturing the nature to sustain for future.
